But What About ... ?

Construction Materials

Roberts Construction & Demolition Landfill

C & D Landfills are facilities specifically designed for disposal of any materials directly related to construction and demolition of manmade structures. These materials include things such as: drywall, shingles, and even boxes or crates used to ship building materials. Exclusions include personal litter or rubbish from a site, or anything that can be carried out of a structure that is to be demolished.

Common Household Hazardous Waste

Gasoline (old) may be strained through a paper filter and diluted with fresh gasoline by one half. This mixture may sometimes be used in your lawnmower, but be sure to check the owners' manual.

Latex and oil paint can be disposed of safely in three ways:

1. Use it up. If you don't have very much paint, spread it on cardboard or newspaper. Let it dry and discard it with your regular trash.
2. If you have a half a can or less of paint, open the can and let it dry out in a well-ventilated area. Keep it away from an open-flame, rain, children or pets. To speed the drying process, add equal amounts of absorbent material, such as kitty litter. When completely dried out, discard with your regular trash.
3. Full or nearly full cans of usable paint can usually be donated. Try contacting local churches, housing programs, or school art, local theater or drama departments.

Paper Recycling

Abitibi is the largest paper recycling company in the world. Abitibi has put many Paper Retriever trailers at local schools. To find out if there is a trailer close to you check out their website at www.paperretriever.com. Abitibi recycles office paper, magazines, newspapers, phone books and mail.

What Are Other Ways To Recycle

Composting

Composting returns organic material to the soil in a usable form. Organic matter in the soil improves plant growth.

Two easy ways to make compost:

1. Leave your grass clippings on your yard after mowing. This helps your soil.
2. Recycle your kitchen waste (do not use meat products), newspapers, sawdust and yard waste. Put the material in a bin with enough dirt to cover. You must keep the waste moist and turn occasional. Use the compost on your garden, around your trees and shrubs for better plant growth. To learn more about composting check out the following websites; ohioline.ag.ohio-state.edu and <http://home.howstuffworks.com>
3. If you do not have room for composting, you can take your materials to the Newark Compost Facility or the Compost Farm.
